• Explore promising practices and learn how to operationalize their ideas in the classroom
What is the Faculty Project?

Two parts:
• Investigative research
• Action plan for the classroom
Faculty Project

These two parts are broken into five sections:

• Sections I through IV: Investigative Research
• Section V: Action Plan
The investigative research is a collaboration

Researcher(s)  Faculty

(Career Education) Dean
Example questions in investigative research

Based on data about students who previously enrolled in your course(s)...

- What types of students have high retention or success rates?
- Do you see differences in retention and success rates based on class format, class length, etc.?
Example questions in the action plan

Based on what you learned in your investigative research...

• What challenge(s) or issue(s) would you like to address in the classroom in the upcoming year?

• What methods or strategies do you plan to apply in the classroom to improve the retention and success rates for your students?

• How will you implement your action plan? What is the timeline?
How do we complete the Faculty Project?

- Online form to save progress and includes fillable fields
- Use data pulled by institutional researchers in some questions
- Sections are due monthly basis; includes check-ins with researcher(s) & Career Education Dean
- Submit individual project online
- However, project may be worked on as a team or individually

Additional Questions Asked During the Information Session
What if I want to analyze data in courses that I teach across colleges?

- You cannot sign up through multiple colleges and get multiple stipends.

- If you want to analyze data for courses that you taught at different colleges, you will have to work with the researchers and/or Career Education Dean at the other college(s) to see if they could pull data for you. Remember, they are pulling data for 20-25 faculty already, so they may not have the bandwidth.
What if I am the department chair and want to review data from multiple faculty?

- The purpose of the Institute is to look specifically at course data and implement solutions in your classroom.

- If you want to continue this process/exercise for program review or at a departmental level, work with your researcher(s) and/or dean(s), but that examination will not be part of this Institute.
Where is the Feb 28, 2020 event located?

- The specific location (e.g., hotel) has not been selected yet. We’re still in the process of finalizing the location.

- However, it will most likely be located in central San Diego County, similar to prior Regional Consortium events.
Can more than one faculty participate from the same department?

Yes. Some colleges discussed potentially working on action plans together as a team. That’s fine to work together as a team, but you must still submit your own project (i.e., you fill in the fields yourself).
Can I still participate if I do not teach the semester immediately following the Institute?

- Yes, the action plan in the Faculty Project asks for your timeline and how you plan to implement your ideas/solutions to increasing student retention, persistence, and success for your courses.
Can I still participate if I do not attend the Feb 28 or Fall 2020 in-person events?

- Unfortunately, no. As previously mentioned, to receive the $250, you have to attend the Feb 28, 2020 in-person event. Similarly, to receive the $1,750, you must complete the requirements of the Institute.

- You may want to work with your college if you need a substitute teacher.

- If you want to just do the project (i.e., fill in the form), without a stipend, then let’s talk.
THANK YOU
