Sculpture, Drawing,
2D and 3D Design

From 1970 to 2004, I taught full time in the Department of Fine Art at San Diego Mesa College. Since then I have taught one class per year.

Recent Activities:

In the past four years, I have carved several wood sculptures (such as the one illustrated), and have designed two hand-made books (one produced in an edition of fifty, the other in an edition of twenty). Some copies of these books are now in public collections such as; Otis College of Art and Design, San Jose State University, University of Tulsa, Scripps College, and others.
