Key Principles of Civil Discourse

1. Respect for Others: Acknowledge and respect the right of others to express differing opinions. Avoid personal attacks and focus on discussing ideas and policies rather than individuals. ↪ 2
2. Active Listening: Listen attentively to others without interrupting. Show that you value their perspective by asking clarifying questions and summarizing their points to ensure understanding. ↪ 2
3. Use of "I" Statements: Speak from your own experience using "I" statements (e.g., "I think," "I feel") to express your views without generalizing or assuming others' thoughts. ↪ 1
4. Stay on Topic: Keep discussions focused on the subject at hand. Avoid side conversations that can distract from the main dialogue and ensure that everyone has a chance to contribute. ↪ 2
5. Constructive Engagement: Aim to build upon each other's ideas rather than simply opposing

6. Maintain a Civil Tone: Use respectful language and a calm tone, even when disagreements arise. Avoid shouting, name-calling, or other forms of incivility. ↪ 2
7. Agree to Disagree: Recognize that it is okay to have differing opinions. Agreeing to disagree can be a healthy part of civil discourse, allowing for diverse perspectives without conflict. ↪ 1
8. Pause When Necessary: If emotions run high, take a moment to pause the conversation. This can help prevent escalation and allow for reflection before continuing. ↪ 1
