

CLASSIFIED SPOTLIGHT

Name: Hai Hoang

Department: Institutional Research

Position: Research and Planning Analyst

Email: hhoang001@sdccd.edu

What does your department do?

We conduct research activities in support of the college's mission and initiatives, and respond to ad hoc research requests from the campus community.

What do you do?

My focus now is to support CTE data such as Strong Work Force and Perkins. I also help out with other exciting projects such as Guided Pathways and Mesa Scholarships.

Common issues you help students/staff with?

Common issues I help with is in implementing surveys, developing evaluation plans, trouble-shooting data and research projects, and generating data insights.

What do you like best about your job?

One of the best things about my position is that I am at a position to help various programs and projects, so there is always something new/fun to do, to learn, and to tackle strategically (and that can be a challenge sometimes too!)

Fun Facts:

Like Hai Duong, I enjoy design and photography (but of course not as good as the other Hai). I taught myself Photoshop and I use it quite often for work, like modifying visuals for presentations or creating icons for dashboards. You may also find me wandering around San Diego with a big camera.
