Chemistry Peer Mentor Christy Khuu

Hello! My name is Christy Khuu and I am stoked to be your new chemistry peer mentor this fall.

I am currently majoring in Biology for transfer. I hope to get into the zoology program at the University of California Santa Barbara.

My interest lies in zoological conservation and research. Although it sounds farfetched, I hope to do research at the frozen zoos here in San Diego in hopes of bringing extinct species back.

My hobbies are reading, baking, and fishkeeping. I am usually quite the introvert but if you have anything to say I am always there to lend a willing ear.

My favorite thing to do on campus is to take advantage of all the events that offer free food. Aside from that, I am currently trying to hit up every Boba place in Convoy; if you need any recommendations, let me know.
