Math Peer Mentor Huy Tran

Hello everyone, my name is Huy.

I love math and physics, so my ultimate goal is to become an electrical engineer.

I've been studying at Mesa for 2 years and will stay another year to complete my major prep. I love this school because all the professors have been amazing to me.

I enjoy solving Rubik's cubes and can solve one in under a minute. I find it a great way to challenge my problem-solving skills and have fun simultaneously.

Additionally, I love tutoring and helping people understand complex concepts with patience and enthusiasm. Seeing someone's face light up when they finally grasp something they've been struggling with is incredibly rewarding.
