

San Diego Mesa College Social Media Guidelines 2021-22

Introduction

San Diego Mesa College utilizes social media to engage with the Mesa College community, which includes San Diego Community College District current and prospective students, alumni, faculty, classified professionals, administrators, community partners and the general public. Official Mesa College social media accounts are used to promote the College's mission and values, as well as departments, programs and events, and to build a sense of community.

The Social Media Guidelines have been established by the Office of Communications and the President's Office with the intent of providing information to campus departments and programs regarding the use of social media for accounts associated with the college, and to protect the college brand when promoting Mesa College, activities, services, program and events via social media channels. To ensure consistency and appropriateness of messaging and branding, please follow the guidelines provided here and in social media training. If you have any questions, please contact the Mesa College Office of Communications.

Account Management and Assistance

Mesa College's Digital Communications Specialist manages the Mesa College main social media accounts ("Mesa College" on Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, LinkedIn, YouTube, etc.). Department and program accounts are managed by personnel within the same department or program. The guidelines in this document apply equally to the Mesa College accounts and the department or program-level accounts. Departments must provide the Digital Communications Specialist with information on each social media account that is affiliated with a department or program so that it can appear in the Mesa College Social Media Directory.

Setting up a Social Media Account for your Department or Program

Mesa College faculty, administrators and classified professionals, with the permission of their respective supervisors, can set up a San Diego Mesa College social media account on behalf of their department or program. Students are not allowed to set up social media accounts on behalf of the college (with the exception of sanctioned Student Clubs, which may do with oversight by faculty or staff advisors).

To add a social media account, please email the Office of Communications Campus Digital Communications Specialist: Anabel Pulido, at apulido@sdccd.edu, and complete a Project Request to "Add a Mesa College social media account – Program name". Only staff or faculty can make a project request, and must have permission from the Dean/Supervisor/Manager to establish an account.

The Digital Communications Specialist will ensure that an account does not already exist, then set up a meeting with you to discuss details, such as the name, the presentation and account management. The Digital Communications Specialist can offer social media suggestions, trainings and best practices. Please note: the Office of Communications can provide guidance, training and coordination, but does not provide direct management of department or program accounts.

General Information and Guidance

Below is general information and guidance for San Diego Mesa College social media accounts.

Definitions

Social media is defined as, “interactive digitally-mediated technologies and platforms that facilitate the creation or sharing/exchange of information, ideas, career interests, and other forms of expression via virtual communities and networks”. Users usually access social media services via web-based apps on desktops and laptops, or download services that offer social media functionality to their mobile devices (e.g., smartphones and tablets). As users engage with these electronic services, they create highly interactive platforms through which individuals, communities, and organizations can share, co-create, discuss, participate, and modify user-generated content or self-curated content posted online.

Some of the most popular social media websites, with over 100 million registered users, include:

- Facebook (and Facebook Messenger)
- Twitter
- Instagram
- LinkedIn
- YouTube
- Snapchat
- TikTok

Hashtags

A hashtag is an easy way for people to categorize, find and join conversations on a particular topic within/across various social media channels. The hashtag is used to highlight keywords or topics within a Tweet, and can be placed anywhere within a post. The hash mark, or pound symbol, (#) is now known by social media users as a "hashtag" or "hash tag". Posts that have the same keywords prefixed with the # symbol are grouped together in user searches, bringing a level of order to the frenzied chaotic world of Twitter. (from hashtag.org)

Mesa College uses multiple hashtags, including:

#SDMesaCollege

#SomosMesa

#MesaAlumni

#SDMesa

#GoOlympians

#HireAnOlympian

#WeAreMesa

#Allin4Students

Naming Conventions in Social Media

- Please use San Diego Mesa College (or SDMesaCollege) when naming your account. This helps to distinguish us from other colleges with ‘Mes’a in the name.
- If possible, avoid acronyms. Faculty and staff may be familiar with acronyms, but your audience may not be.
- If your department or unit name is too long to use in its full form, abbreviate as necessary, but be sure to use the full name and “San Diego Mesa College” in your description.

Use of the San Diego Mesa College Logo in Social Media

The San Diego Community College District and Mesa College has logo guidelines for official logo usage. The Mesa College Office of Communications can create an official stacked logo for Mesa College departments and programs that do not already have them. Please submit a Project Request to engage our services.

Content

About San Diego Mesa College

For Mesa College About Us (boilerplate), mission, vision and values text, please see the Mesa College Style Guide on the Office of Communications webpage.

About Your Department or Program

Please use language consistent and information with and provided on your webpage and other promotional material. This is very important for web optimization and keyword search.

Posting on Behalf of Mesa College

The guidelines in this section are specific for users who manage a formally Mesa College-branded account for a Mesa College department or other official group.

- Be connected. The Campus Social Media Specialist will schedule you for training and to ensure a consistent branding and content. You can also view the list of Mesa College affiliated social media pages in order to like, comment, share and boost posts.
- Be respectful and thoughtful. As a Mesa College employee or representative, you should be mindful of the college's mission as a forum for thoughtful discussion of opposing ideas. Some online communities can be volatile, tempting users to behave in ways they otherwise would not. Your reputation, and that of Mesa College, is best served when you do not engage in negative comments. If you have concerns, speak with your Supervisor.
- Be responsive. Monitor your social media regularly to be aware of posts, comments and questions. Please do your best to reply in a timely and appropriate manner (within 24-48 hours).
- Be transparent. Clearly state your role and goals.
- Keep your personal views separate. Avoid political or personal comments on College accounts.
- Be accurate and professional. Pay attention to grammar, spelling and factual details.
- Be focused and topical. Posts and topics should relate to your department/program/event, target audience and serve the college's mission. Posts with general information or fun items to build community are encouraged, as long as they are appropriate.
- Be secure. Maintain unique passwords. Change passwords regularly. Do not share passwords with students (Mesa College social media accounts must be managed by faculty and/or staff).
- Know with whom you're interacting. Thousands of people follow Mesa College on social media; not all of them follow our standards of online decorum. Use caution when sharing or retweeting content from people whose behavior does not embody the values of the college. If the person's name is vulgar, or if their posts are explicit, rude or profane, do not share their material or otherwise acknowledge them. Doing so might be interpreted by our audience as an endorsement by Mesa College — even if we include a disclaimer.
- Respect copyrights. Always give people the proper credit for their work and make sure you have the right to use something before you share it. Never post copyrighted photos, music, text or video content without the permission of the copyright owner. Please note: you could be responsible if legal action is taken for illegal use of material.

Pro-Tips:

Streamline your social-media presence. Use your discretion when deciding which social media platforms to use and how much time to devote to updating them. It's better to have a robust, lively presence in one (say, Twitter) than to have mediocre, inconsistent content on several sites. Don't create multiple accounts for your department on the same site – this will confuse your audience. On Facebook, opt for a "like" page, which is typically used by an organization, rather than a "friend" page, which is intended for an individual.

Avoid Over-posting. Try not to send more than a few tweets a day unless you are tweeting live from an event. Similarly, limit your Facebook posts to two or three per week. Flooding your readers with content may seem like a great way to get the word out, but high-volume posting will likely be perceived as spam and people will choose to "unfollow" you.

Comment Policy

- Mesa College encourages active discussion and sharing of information and thoughts on all of our social media platforms.
 - However, content that includes profanity, personal attacks, commercial promotions, political rhetoric, SPAM is not allowed
 - Repeated postings or any posts deemed inappropriate are not permitted.
- If a student needs information on other services, please refer them to the appropriate department, program or resource as soon as possible.
- If a situation appears to be an emergency, or a user appears to be in crisis, please refer the user to the appropriate emergency resource (911, etc.) and contact your Supervisor immediately.

For any questions, concerns, or comments, please contact Jennifer Nichols Kearns, Director, San Diego Mesa College Office of Communications at jnkearns@sdccd.edu or Anabel Pulido, Campus Digital Communications Specialist at apulido@sdccd.edu.
