

STEM Core Speaker Series

Rico Solano, MBA

Chief Operating Officer, Eutheria Bioscience

Thursday November 10, 2022

10:00am - 11:00am in MS201

Rico Solano is the Chief Operating Officer of Eutheria Bioscience, a contract research organization providing services in preclinical research. Rico has a decade of experience as a scientist across various disciplines including: academia, high throughput drug screening, biotechnology startup, and contract research. Prior to establishing Eutheria Bioscience, Rico managed a $2M commercial laboratory supply territory which, under his command, expanded to over $7M in the course of 2 years. As COO, Rico is an integral part of the company's operational development and growth, in line with our mission and core value to let science results drive business decisions in the industry. Rico earned his B.S. in Biochemistry and his M.B.A. from Point Loma Nazarene University.

Questions?

Contact Work-Based Learning Coordinator,
Katlin Choi at kchoi@sdccd.edu
STEM Core Speaker Series is funded by
Work Based Learning.

