Student Leadership Summit – April 12

Transfer & Career

During this time a lot of students are applying to transfer and in the process of looking for a job in their field of study and may not know where to start or know what Mesa has to offer to help. For that reason for the month of April our topic was Transfer and Career, and we were able to have Sadie Wager a Career Peer Ambassador attend and present to student leaders and students on this topic. By providing this space (SLS) and having someone in that department come and educate us is very helpful, we as student leaders get the chance to ask questions that will then help us relay and share those answers with other students and know where to send them to and encourage them to speak with a career counselor to get even more help. During our summit we provided a Jamboard in which we asked student leaders/students to add common questions they have or have heard from so that Sadie can go over them the best she could but also provide them with the correct contact so they can get those answers.

It would be nice to see a little bit more about the counselor times and availability, information for international/undocumented students

I think have the pathway ambassadors was extremely useful and are a great resource for students to have.

I think transferring is a great topic to discuss, and so important to all students

The career information worked very well

Student Stories

STUDENTS STORIES PROJECT
Made for current Mesa students by the Pathways Fellows

Let our student voices be heard!

Earn $30 by sharing your story!

We have been putting out Student Stories promotion flyers with the incentives of $30/student. As a result, seven more students reached out and are interested in participating. We interviewed, edited, and uploaded Joanna's Student Stories video on our YouTube channel. Two additional students have been interviewed, and we are still working on the schedules to have interviews with other students.

Onramp to Online Learning

Section 1 of 2

Mesa's Online Learning Support Survey

The Pathways Fellows continues collaborating with Katie Palacios and Christina Crosby of MOST's Onramp to Online Learning. In late April, the team distributed a feedback survey to help us understand how to best tailor an Online Orientation for upcoming students. The survey, distributed through Canvas, received 3,350 responses in twelve days. We are currently working on an action plan to analyze all of the data and hope to begin creating a Canvas Shell for students' Online Learning success over the summer.
